New Business

Band

Marching band t-shirts have been ordered and paid for. Elite should be shipping them to us next week. The final cost was $399.85, for which I'll bring the receipts.

I'll be in contact with Sunshine Travel this week to get a final cost for the Disney trip so we can have a parent informational meeting by the end of the month. I'll keep you all updated on a date for that.

Last, and most certainly not least, huge thank you to Jayme for being an incredible announcer for the marching band.

Choir

The show has been revealed! As you all may know by now it is Mean Girls! Auditions are this week Thursday and Friday, we should have the show cast by next Monday. I plan to have a read/sing through next week. It is also homecoming next week so, I only plan to have one or two rehearsals near the beginning of the week to give students time for their festivities.

Discuss set building.
